

Gmail Tip #56: Five New Features Launched!

Gmail has just rolled out 5 new features to add to Gmailâ??s arsenal including new Mobile Phone access.

jimstips.com

-Gmail On Your Mobile Phone
-Forward all
-Reply on top
-Embarrassment-reducing new message notifications
-Chat while your friends are offline

Read on to see the details of these new featuresâ?¦.

Gmail On Your Mobile Phone
Point your phone to gmail.com/app, download it the app, and you can access Gmail on your phone with just a click or two.

Some neat features:

- It has the same Gmail interface you know and love
- Your account stays synchronized whether you access it from your computer or the phone
- You can easily view attachments such as photos, documents and .pdf files

To learn more about Gmail for mobile devices, visit this page:
http://www.google.com/mobile/gmail/#utm_source=en-cpp-g4mc-gmnew&utm_medium=cpp&utm_campaign=en

Just be sure to check out the phone compatibility at their Supported Mobile Phone link at http://mail.google.com/support/bin/answer.py?answer=50425 Not all phones are supported (mine isnâ??t.)

Forward all
When viewing a conversation, you can now click the "Forward all" link to forward the entire conversation instead of just one message.

Reply on top
Now you donâ??t hacve to scroll all the way to the bottom of a message to find the â??Replyâ?• link. Reply Now thereâ??s a Reply button right on top. It also has a nice dropdown menu with many other options. Just click the little dropdown arrow. And donâ??t forget that if you have Keyboard Shortcuts enabled, you can always press the "r" key to reply.

Embarassment-reducing new message notifications
Have you ever replied to a message only to find out that someone sent a reply right before you? Now, if someone sends a reply while youâ??re in the middle of reading or replying to a conversation, youâ??ll get a notification that a new message has arrived. Click "update conversation" to upate the view to see what youâ??ve missed.

Chat while your friends are offline
If youâ??re chatting with a friend who goes offline, your friend will be able to see whatever you typed the next time he or she goes online.

jimstips.com

Category

1. Gmail Tips

Tags

1. find
2. Gmail
3. Google
4. keyboard
5. shortcuts

Date
11/10/2026
Date Created
11/10/2006