SageTV Review: Animusic

This isnâ??t so much a tip as a plug. We were watching our local PBS station and saw part of a show called Animusic 2, the second of a collection of animated, computer-generated music videos. I immediately fell in love! I found the DVD at Amazon.com as well as the official Animusic site and bought both Animusic and Animusic 2 DVDâ??s.

So what makes this relevant to SageTV? Well, SageTV plays these DVDâ??s perfectly, and they look absolutely stunning on our 42â?³ Westinghouse W4207 Widescreen LCD HD monitor. This collection of musical shorts really demonstrates how music and computer animation can come together to create a stunning, engaging experience. Once you see it, youâ??ll want to show it to family and friends.

The Animusic site has lots of nice sample videos and screenshots, and offers lots of interesting onfo about these DVDâ??s. I highly recommend these!
